Erica's Elephant.

It's a really good book. Erica is a little Girl who got an elephant on her door step.

I recommend you try the book .I like it because it's very interesting and exciting. It is also funny. There was one part where the elephant was in the bath tub. The elephant was in the bath tub because it was hiding from some people. The people were from a company called exotic hats and animals. The elephant came from India. The elephant came from Eric's uncle. In the end the elephant went back to India.
